FAN FRIENDLY ATMOSPHERE

The Terrapin gymnastics team enjoys spending time with fans and especially signing autographs for aspiring gymnasts at post-meet get-togethers.

EAGL HONORS

The Maryland gymnastics program has earned its share of conference awards since helping form the EAGL in 1995. Head coach Bob Nelligan was named the league's coach of the year in 1999 and three Terps have been named the EAGL's Outstanding Rookie Gymnast. Perhaps even more impressive is that Maryland gymnasts have been named the EAGL's Scholar Athlete of the Year three times.

TALENTED FRESHMEN AND STRONG LEADERSHIP: TERPS SET HIGH HOPES FOR THE 2007 SEASON

Excitement and hope are in the air for the 2007 Maryland gymnastics team as the incoming "super six" freshmen class joins the team. This class has been touted as Maryland's best recruiting effort in the program's history. The 2006 team battled injuries and did not achieve the results they expected, but the entrance of the 2007 freshmen and the start of a new year will bring a spark back to the team. Head coach Bob Nelligan describes the 2007 freshmen as the building blocks for the future of Maryland gymnastics, "High expectations have been set for this class. I don't predict results, but I do promise the beginning emergence of a nationally competitive team."

Coach Nelligan knows this class has talent and produced impressive results at the Junior Olympic level, but now they will have to prove themselves at the collegiate level. "This freshman class has come in with a level of confidence that I have not seen in the past. However, they are now exposed to college life for the first time and will experience growing pains. I know it is my job to keep up the confidence that they came in with." Nelligan said.

Coach Nelligan also sees interesting parallels between this year's team and the 2001 Maryland gymnastics team, his most successful team in recent years. "The teams have the same type of chemistry, a young team with strong leadership. The 2001 co-captains, Jill Fisher and Gillian Cote, have a very similar relationship as this year's captains, Rachel Colon and Angela Ferg. Fisher and Colon had extremely successfully careers prior to joining the Maryland team. Ferg relies on Colon for confidence and experience like Cote did with Fisher. Both Ferg's and Cote's gymnastics blossomed in college. Also the 2001 team had six freshmen just like the 2007 team. Hopefully this year's team can experience the same type of results."

The 2007 squad is comprised of three seniors, three juniors, three sophomores, and six freshmen. Co-captains Rachel Colon and Angela Ferg have begun providing leadership to the young team. "Colon and Ferg are lobbying the team for commitment and the team has responded to them."

Last season Colon emerged as a strong all-around performer and qualified as an individual competitor at the Southeast NCAA Regionals. Ferg was an individual qualifier on vault at NCAA Regionals. Ferg will also be expected to turn in strong performances on the balance beam and floor exercise and possibly see action on the uneven bars for the first time in her collegiate career. Marisa St. Louis looks to return to competition after being sidelined last season with an injury. Nelligan notes a difference in St. Louis, "I see maturity in Marisa. She realizes this is her last season and she is motivated to prove herself."

The junior class also has a lot to prove. Gretchen Kittelberger returned to competition on all events last season after sustaining a season-ending ACL tear during her freshman year. Nelligan notes, "I worked very hard with Gretchen this summer and I see a desire in her to compete all-around this upcoming season." Lindsey Bonomo has continued to improve over the offseason and was a surprise for Maryland last year as she broke into the lineup on vault, balance beam and floor exercise. Halfway through last season, Morgan Fishbein established her position in the floor lineup and is expected to compete on floor again this season. "There is never a question if Morgan will hit her routine and she has great style on floor."

The sophomore standout Kim Loew surprised many by competing on uneven bars, balance beam and floor exercise in 2006 and looks to be a threat in the all-around. Kelsey Nelligan and Lindsey Willner round out the sophomore class and both are working extremely hard to break into a lineup this season.

Maryland's "super six" freshman class consists of Michele Brenner (New City, NY.), Allison Dama (Lansing, Mich.), Brandi George (Orlando, Fla.), Candice King (Plano, Texas), Margaux Meeks (Winter Garden, Fla.) and Talia Tossone (Virginia Beach, Va.). Nelligan says, "The freshmen are all unique individuals with very different approaches to gymnastics and life. They are linked academically, because they are here for an education."

The "super six" have earned six Junior Olympic national titles combined King and Meeks are both former Junior Olympic vault champions and will ad a powerful punch to the vault lineup. George will bring excitement to the beam lineup. She recently had two skills named after her in the Junior Olympic Cod of Points. Tossone has experience competing on the elite level and will also be a force on the beam lineup.

Nelligan's assistant coaches balance out the team. "Vicki and Brett are technicians and realists. However, I think how I can get someone to contribute above and beyond what was expected."

Assistant coach Vicki Chliszczyk returns for her second season after leading the Terps on beam last season. In addition to primarily coaching beam, Vicki assists on all events and routine construction. Her spotting abilities also have been a tremendous asset to the staff.

Brett Nelligan returns for his fourth season as an assistant coach. Brett's success in recruiting the "super six" freshman class helped him earn the title of recruiting coordinator in May 2006. Nelligan's main duties include coaching vault and tumbling and is also relied on for spotting. As recruiting coordinator, Brett was responsible for hitting the road this summer in search of securing another top-notch freshman class for the Terps' 2007-08 season.

Maryland will begin the 2007 season at home where they will host Towson and University of Pennsylvania on January 12, the first of five meets hosted in the Comcast Center Pavilion this year.

After their home opener, the team hits the road for three consecutive away meets. The Terps will take on the Pittsburgh Panthers and Michigan State Spartans on January. 19. The following weekend the team travels to the University of Kentucky to compete in a quad meet on January 26. The team will finish their road travel at the Governor's Cup hosted by NC State on February 2.

Maryland returns home for a meet with a local rival, George Washington Colonials, on Feb. 8. Then the team will travel to the New Hampshire Wildcats on February 17.

The Terps will come home to host a quad meet against UNH, Temple University and James Madison University on February 23. This meet, "Terps For a Cure" night is dedicated to raising donations and understanding for breast cancer research.

The home season closes in March with two dual meets versus Penn State on March 2 and the 2006 EAGL Champions, the University of North Carolina, on March 10, which will also serve as the team's alumni & senior nights.

The Terps finish their regular-season with two away meets and travel to Towson University on March 16 and the University of Michigan on March 23.

Head coach Nelligan believes the Michigan meet will be a season highlight and a great tune-up before entering post season competition, "Michigan is one of the premier women's programs in the country. It will be a great bench mark meet to evaluate the growth of our program and the competitiveness of our freshman. I believe the team will respond with a level of enthusiasm that can pull in a big score."

For the first time in eight years, the University of Maryland will host the EAGL Championships in the Comcast Center on Friday, March 30th. Following the EAGL Championships, the Terps look to compete at one of the six NCAA Regional Championship sites on April 14 and then advance to the NCAA Championships at the University of Utah on April 26-28.

HEAD COACH BOB NELLIGAN

29TH SEASON AT MARYLAND • MASSACHUSETTS '72
1999 NCAA SOUTHEAST REGION COACH OF THE YEAR

Bob Nelligan enters 29th season at the helm of the Maryland gymnastics program. In that time, Nelligan has been the driving force behind the Terps' success. Affectionately called "Duke," his love for the sport and for his athletes is unique in today's world of gymnastics and has earned him the respect of his pupils and peers.

"Duke is one of the most passionate and caring coaches I know. He absolutely loves to be in the gym teaching and coaching," said assistant coach Vicki Chliszczyk. "His energy is evident in each and every practice and the entire team knows that Duke will be there to support them in any situation. Duke knows how to make each practice exciting and fun!"

With a lifetime coaching record of 459-388-4, Nelligan has witnessed and adapted to the numerous changes that collegiate gymnastics has undergone. As gymnasts have gotten stronger, so has Nelligan's recruiting of the top gymnasts in the country. During Nelligan's career with the Terps, they have qualified for the NCAA Southeast Region Championships 14 times, including six consecutive times from 1983 to '89 and four consecutive times from 1998-2001. In recent years, the Terps have moved closer to qualifying for the NCAA Championship meet.

Prior to the Terps' entrance into the Southeast Region in the 1983-84 season, the Terps competed in the East Region and qualified for the championships four of the seven seasons that they were members. Nelligan has the respect of all of his colleagues at Maryland and nationwide, and is recognized as one of the top gymnastics coaches in the country. In 1999 Nelligan was acknowledged for his contributions to collegiate gymnastics when he was honored as both the East Atlantic Gymnastics League Coach of the Year and Southeast Region Coach of the Year, the first awards he had received in a prestigious career.

Maryland's level of success is only achieved through a strict regiment of training and conditioning, which Nelligan implements on a year-round basis. Nelligan is constantly striving to be the best and expects his gymnasts to do the same, both in athletics and academics. Last season, in addition to having three All-EAGL first team selections and five All-EAGL second team selections, Maryland had eleven gymnasts earn All-EAGL academic honors. Nelligan is responsible for ensuring that this level of success is constantly maintained. He is the Maryland Terrapin team leader and the dedication and enthusiasm of the Terrapin gymnasts is a direct reflection of Nelligan's attitude and work ethic.

"Duke is one of the most technical coaches in all of collegiate gymnastics. His passion for the sport and support for his athletes is unrivaled. My father has done so much for me throughout my gymnastics career, it is a complete honor to be able to assist him with his," said assistant coach and son Brett Nelligan.

Even though his work with the gymnastics team consumes most of his time throughout the year, Nelligan still finds time to focus his energies on several other projects. He assists the Director of the Maryland Gymkana Troupe, the only touring exhibitional gymnastics troupe in the country. They perform nationwide and have become a main attraction on the Maryland campus. Nelligan is also the co-founder of the Maryland Gymkana Camp and on numerous occasions has been a guest lecturer in the College of Health and Human Performance Department. He is also a director and master staff member at the Woodward Gymnastics Camp in Woodward, Pa. and is a member of the National Association of Collegiate Gymnastics Coaches, the U.S. Elite Coaches Association and the chairman of the first NACGC ethics committee. Nelligan has also taught numerous classes regarding athletics and is striving to take athletics to another level through his pioneering of a wellness program for all of the varsity athletes at Maryland. This program is currently in the process of being implemented to select track and field athletes and will ensure that athletes achieve their highest potential through the best means possible.

Originally from Braintree, Mass., Nelligan has more than 30 years of gymnastics experience. Prior to accepting the position of head coach at Maryland for the 1978-1979 season, Nelligan worked in various capacities at the Masters School in Dobbs Ferry, N.Y. From 1973 to 1978 he was a physical education instructor at the Masters School and also coached several teams, including gymnastics, lacrosse and softball. In addition to these responsibilities, Nelligan was named the Chairman of the Physical Education Department in 1975 for the Masters School. From 1972 to 1973 Nelligan coached at the Marvateens Gymnastics School in Rockville, Md., and before that was an instructor and coach at the Weymouth South School in Weymouth, Mass. Nelligan received his B.S. in physical education from the University of Massachusetts in 1971.

Nelligan and his wife, Chris, have two children; Brett and Kelsey. Brett is an assistant coach and the recruiting coordinator of the Maryland gymnastics team and Kelsey is a member of the team.

VICKI CHLISZCZYK

ASSISTANT COACH • SECOND YEAR AT MARYLAND
YORK UNIVERSITY '01

Vicki Chliszczyk returns for her second season as assistant coach of the Maryland gymnastics team. Chliszczyk primarily coaches balance beam, but also assists on all events, routine construction and spotting. In her first season, she is credited with raising both the beam lineup's confidence and level of difficulty. Some of her other duties include selecting team apparel and coordinating travel arrangements. This year she is the lead person organizing the EAGL Championships.

Head coach Nelligan describes Chliszczyk's biggest contribution to the team last season as unseen; "She quickly gained the team's respect, because of her dedication, fairness and support. The team knows she is pulling for them."

Chliszczyk studied with the Ontario Gymnastics Federation and completed an intensive national coaching certificate program. The in-depth training system teaches coaches how to develop athlete's skills and adequately spot them. Coach Nelligan believes Chliszczyk has done an excellent job transitioning into Maryland gymnastics, "She has adapted well with our system and will continue to grow with it while adding her own ideas. She is a teacher and knows how to mold gymnasts."

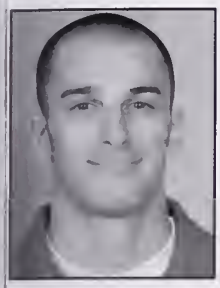
Chliszczyk spends her summer working at the prestigious Woodward Gymnastics Camp in Pennsylvania. She has been one of the gymnastics program directors for the last three years and affiliated with the program since 1996. Some of her duties include scheduling, coaching and conducting clinics to visiting coaches. At Woodward, she manages a gymnastics staff of 30 coaches and over 3000 gymnasts, including many on the elite level.

A 20-year member of the Milton Springers gymnastics club in Milton, Ontario, Chliszczyk, competed in the Provinical Championships for 10 consecutive years (1989-2000). The Milton Springers Club dedicated an award in her name, "The Vicki Chliszczyk Award for Dedication", given at the end of the year to the most dedicated athlete.

A native of Ontario, Canada, Chliszczyk earned a bachelor's degree in Philosophy at York University in 2001. Her parents and brother, Chris, reside in Ontario, Canada.

BRETT NELLIGAN

ASSISTANT COACH / RECRUITING COORDINATOR
FOURTH YEAR AT MARYLAND • MASSACHUSETTS '03



Brett Nelligan enters his fourth season as assistant coach of the Maryland gymnastics team after joining the coaching staff in July 2003. Nelligan is responsible for coaching vault and floor exercise, the two most consistent and highest-scoring events for Maryland last season. He is also relied on for his spotting abilities that are crucial to the team's success.

Head coach Bob Nelligan said, "During his four-year tenure, vault and floor have been our most stable events and those events are where we posted some of our highest totals." Nelligan also describes Brett as a technician, "He understands the mechanisms of where the sport is going. With Brett you are seeing the emergence of a national coach."

In addition to coaching, Nelligan is credited with securing the Terps' most talented recruiting classes ever with the 2007 freshmen class, which have won six Junior Olympic national championship titles combined. His recruiting stuccess helped him earn the title of recruiting coordinator in May 2006. Nelligan's father, head coach Bob Nelligan, believes what makes Brett a good recruiter is his believability. "He is selling something that he believes in, his father and the Maryland gymnastics system. He also goes out recruiting with a plan to bring in the highest ranked athletes."

A 2003 graduate of the University of Massachusetts with a degree in sport management, Nelligan competed three years of gymnastics for the Minutemen, serving as co-captain one year. An accomplished gymnast himself, Brett regularly made line-up on vault, floor exercise, high bar and pommel horse. On vault, he placed in the top ten at the NCAA Championships and third at the ECAC Championships. He was also an Academic All-American and aided his team in winning two ECAC Championships. A versatile athlete, Brett turned to diving after the UMass gymnastics program was cancelled, and witnessed the team achieve its third straight Atlantic-10 title.

In recent years, Nelligan has spent his summers coaching at several gymnastics camps, including the University of Georgia, University of New Hampshire, University of Arizona, University of Rhode Island, University of Maryland Gymkana Gymnastics Camp, Woodward Gymnastics Camp, and at the U.S. Gymnastics Training Center in Holyoke, Mass.

Brett currently resides in Laurel, Maryland and enjoys the opportunity to work with his father, head coach Bob Nelligan, and his sister Kelsey, a gymnastics team member.

Ferg continued her consistency on vault, notching a 9.8 for second place. Pascual scored a season-high 9.875 on uneven bars, tying for first-place overall with Towson's Cristina Lindo. Martinez took first place on floor exercise with a score of 9.825 and Loew added a 9.725, tying for fourth place.

MANDY PASQUAL

The Terps hosted George Washington in their final home meet of the season on March 7. Maryland totaled a 192.925 to defeat the Colonials (191.3). Ferg tied a career-best score of 9.85 on vault, finishing first overall. Colon (9.775) and Pascual (9.75) finished 1-2 on uneven bars. Gatch (9.8) and Colon (9.775) finished 1-2 on balance beam. Martinez paced Maryland on floor exercise with a 9.9 and first-place finish. She scored a 9.9 or higher on that event in four of the six previous meets. Freshman Kim Loew scored a career-best 9.85 for second place on floor and Colon earned her second all-around title of the season with a score of 38.425. With the win, the Terps improved to 11-7 on the season and 5-2 in the EAGL conference.

Maryland returned to action on March 17, when they traveled to Raleigh, North Carolina for a quad meet with NC State, New Hampshire and George Washington. It would be the final tune-up before EAGL Conference Championships. The Terps scored their highest team total of the season (194.575), finishing second to NC State. New Hampshire placed third (193.75) and George Washington finished fourth (193.25).

Ferg and Martinez tied for third on vault with a 9.825. Martinez added a second-place finish on uneven bars (9.775), while Ferg scored a career-best 9.8 on beam for second place. Martinez finished second on floor with a 9.875 and Colon placed third with a 9.85. Martinez and Colon finished 1-2 in the all-around competition. Martinez tallied a season-high 39.225 and Colon notched her second highest total of the season (39.125). Loew added a career-best 9.7 on beam and a 9.8 on floor. The Terps ended the regular season with a 13-8 overall record and 7-3 in the EAGL Conference.

The Terps would look to carry the momentum of their last regular season meet to the EAGL Conference Championships at Rutgers University on March 25. Maryland scored a 194.75, finishing fifth overall. North Carolina won the meet with a score of 195.325. Ferg scored a career-best 9.875 on vault and finished tied for second-place overall. Colon and Martinez tied for eighth place with a score of 9.825. Ferg also paced the squad on beam with a 9.775 and seventh-place finish. Loew scored a career-best 9.725, finishing ninth overall. Maryland tied a season-high team total on beam (48.475). Martinez led the Terps on floor exercise with a 9.85 and fourth-place finish. Loew added a 9.775 for twelfth place.

Although Maryland did not qualify as a team for the NCAA Regionals, four gymnasts were individual qualifiers. Rachel Martinez and Rachel Colon qualified in the all-around; Angie Ferg on vault and Alex Gatch on balance beam. Colon (2005 beam alternate) and Ferg made their first appearances at NCAA Regionals. Martinez finished eleventh in the all-around competition, scoring a 38.725. She notched a 9.75 on vault (tied for 19th), 9.5 on uneven bars (36th), 9.65 on balance beam (24th) and 9.825 on floor exercise (Tied for 13th). Rachel Colon placed eighteenth in the all-around competition, scoring a 37.725. Colon tallied 9.25 on vault (40th), 9.675 on uneven bars (26th), 9.075 on balance beam (41st) and 9.725 on floor exercise (tied for 29th). Ferg tied Martinez on vault, scoring 9.75 (tied for 19th) and Gatch scored 9.375 on beam (32nd).

Several Terps garnered postseason accolades. Rachel Martinez earned first team All-EAGL on floor exercise and all-around and second team All-EAGL on vault, uneven bars, and balance beam. Rachel Colon earned first team All-EAGL on balance beam and second team All-EAGL in all-around. Angie Ferg was named second team All-EAGL on vault.

The Maryland team ended the season with high scores but the late-season surge was not enough to qualify for the NCAA regionals as a team. Colon and Ferg are the senior leaders of the squad in 2007. Kim Loew overcame injury earlier in the season to emerge as one of the Terps' most consistent floor performers. She will look to join Colon as the squad's top all-around performers. Morgan Fishbein entered the floor exercise lineup in the middle of the season and provided solid performances for the team. While Maryland loses several talented seniors (Gatch, Martinez, Pascual and Ruppert), they have its most talented incoming class ever. The Terps are young but extremely talented and look to return to NCAA Regionals this season.

2006 EAGL REVIEW

The North Carolina gymnastics team won the East Atlantic Gymnastics League (EAGL) Championship on Saturday, March 25, at the Louis Brown Athletic Center in Piscataway, N.J.

The 23rd-rated Tar Heels claimed their third EAGL title and second straight title with a team score of 195.325 after forging ahead from second-place finisher North Carolina State (195.075) and third-place finisher No. 22 West Virginia (194.9).

NC State head coach Mark Stevenson was voted EAGL coach of the year by his peers.

EAGL gymnast of the year Courtney Bumpers paced the Tar Heels by winning the all-around title with an EAGL season high score of 39.525, and was closely followed by teammate Christine Robella (39.475) and New Hampshire's Mariana Pena Trestini (39.175).

Bumpers and Robella also finished Nos. 1 and 2 on the floor exercise with scores of 9.95 and 9.9, respectively. Third-place on the floor went to EAGL rookie of the year Mehgan Morris, who tumbled a 9.875.

NC State's Leigha Hancock won the vault with a score of 9.9, while Bumpers, Maryland's Angela Ferg and New Hampshire's Amanda Hall, the defending champion on the event, tied for second on the event with a 9.875.

Robella took home top marks on the uneven bars with a 9.9, which was closely followed by a four-way tie for second place among Hall, Morris, and NC State's Elyse Adams and Amanda Jones with 9.85.

Pena Trestini won the balance beam competition with a 9.925, while Hancock and Bumpers tied for second carding scores of 9.875.

Bumpers' two individual titles gives her a league-record eight for her career. North Carolina becomes the third team in the 11-year history of the league to win back-to-back titles joining West Virginia (1996-98) and NC State (1999-2000).

FROM MARYLAND GYMNASTICS TO ABC SPORTS/ESPN

"Receiving a scholarship was, in itself, an honor: but more important, it allowed me to spend valuable time participating in internships that prepared me for my career, instead of working my way through school. That scholarship is still paying dividends, years after my time in College Park."

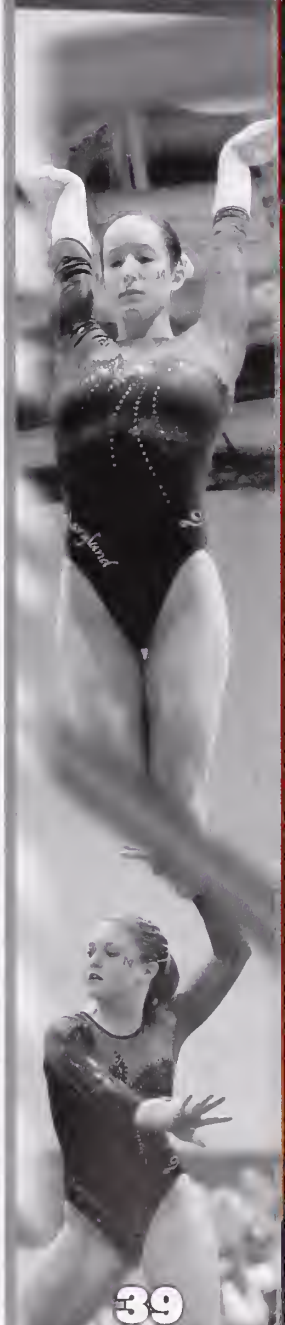
KIM LOEW WAS NAMED THE TEAM'S ROOKIE OF THE YEAR IN 2006.



"STRIVE FOR CLARITY, BUT ACCEPT AND UNDERSTAND AMBIGUITY."

That phrase captures one way in which an educated person approaches the world and its challenges. Students who graduate from the University of Maryland have been exposed to the tools that allow them to put that perspective to work. Imparting such a perspective may be an ambitious project for undergraduate education, but to aim for anything less would be unworthy of a great university's goals for its students. Thirteen years ago, Promises to Keep, a plan for undergraduate education at Maryland, articulated those goals so eloquently we repeat them here.

Undergraduate education at Maryland "aims to provide students with a sense of identity and purpose, a concern for others, a sense of responsibility for the quality of life around them, a continuing eagerness for knowledge and understanding, and a foundation for a lifetime of personal enrichment."

As we learn with and from one another, we try to "develop human values," "celebrate tolerance and fairness," "contribute to the social conscience," "monitor and assess private and collective assumptions," and "recognize the glory, tragedy and humor of the human condition." Your years at the University of Maryland can provide you with all the tools you need to accomplish these goals. Students here are "educated to be able to read with perception and pleasure, write and speak with clarity and verve, handle numbers and computation proficiently, reason mathematically, generate clear questions and find probable arguments, reach substantiated conclusions and accept ambiguity."

AND WE ALSO HOPE YOU ENJOY THE JOURNEY.

THE UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

THE CAMPUS

By virtually every measure of quality, the University of Maryland has gained national recognition as one of the fastest-rising comprehensive research institutions in the country. The momentum of recent years has poised the university to move it into the top ranks of higher education and take leadership in shaping the research university of the 21st century.

The university has enjoyed a decade of momentum in all of the areas that affect quality. The average high school GPA of entering students has zoomed from 3.01 to nearly 3.90, and the average SATs are now more than 1270. The student body is a model of diversity, with minorities making up more than 33 percent of all students, and at least one graduate and undergraduate student from every state in the nation.

The university has 79 graduate and undergraduate programs ranked in the Top 25 by U.S. News and World Report, up from just one program in 1991.

Sponsored research and outreach has nearly tripled in the same 10-year period, exceeding $350 million last year. Private giving also has increased, and the university last year concluded its first campaign by topping its $350 million goal by more than $100 million. Alumni Association membership has been growing at an average rate of 10 percent a year since 1992.

One of the largest research universities in the United States, Fall 2005 enrollment was 25,442 undergraduate and 9,927 graduate students. There are 94 undergraduate programs, 89 master's programs, 70 doctoral programs and one first professional degree program. More than 100 centers and institutes are engaged in research and outreach.

Faculty at the University of Maryland, in all fields of knowledge, are engaged at the highest levels of national and international concern. The university's location near the center of federal policy-making and international political and economic activity enables it to play an active role in research and analysis of public policy.

Maryland is one of 30 public universities in the prestigious 63-member Association of American Universities and the only public institution in the Maryland-D.C. area with membership in the nation's most distinguished honor society, Phi Beta Kappa.

DID YOU KNOW?

In 1991, Maryland had one program listed among Top 25 entrants in the U.S. News & World Report Rankings. Maryland now has 79 programs ranked among the nation's elite. and the university is ranked 18th nationally among public universities.

A report card published in Technology Review rated the top U.S. universities in their quest for intellectual property, commercial partners and profits. Johns Hopkins University and the University of Maryland (28th) were the Mid-Atlantic (Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, District of Columbia) schools to make the "campus patenting" top 50 list.

Black Issues In Higher Education ranked the university fourth nationally in bachelor's degrees earned by African-American students at traditionally white schools. Maryland ranks first in African-American undergraduate degrees in social sciences and history.

The Wall Street Journal ranked the Robert H. Smith School of Business No. 15 a mong the world's business schools. Maryland is the top-ranked school in the Mid-Atlantic region (Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia). The Financial Times of London ranked the Robert H. Smith School of Business No. 3 in value for money, No. 6 overall among U.S. public business schools and No. 12 in placement rate.

In the undergraduate program rankings released by U.S. News & World Report both the A. James Clark School of Engineering (No. 22) and the Robert H. Smith School of Business (No. 22) were ranked among the top 25.

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT
CALIFORNIA '59
EIGHTH YEAR

As the 19th president of the University of Maryland, C. D. "Dan" Mote Jr. has presided since 1998 over a university that is claiming a well-earned position in the top echelon of research universities in the nation. An internationally-respected researcher and member of the National Academy of Engineering, Dr. Mote is Glenn L. Martin Institute Professor of Engineering. He serves on the Technology Council of Maryland, is co-chair of the Potomac Conference of the Greater Washington Board of Trade and heads its Technology Transfer Committee.

Under President Mote's leadership, Maryland has received national and international notice for innovative undergraduate education opportunities, high-impact research and academic programs, outstanding performing arts, and athletes and athletic teams competitive with the best in the nation.

"The future of the state depends on this university," says Mote. "It is the State of Maryland's most important asset." As president, Dan Mote has been determined to make that asset even greater by nourishing a culture of excellence and civility across the campus, strengthening the university's connections with its various stakeholders, building partnerships with State and national corporations and federal agencies and achieving distinction as an institution where discovery takes place every day and everywhere. The university's progress can be seen in all areas, from its nationally-ranked programs to its success in building external partnerships to its state-of-the-art facilities.

QUALITY PROGRAMS

Over the past decade, the quality of Maryland's programs and reputation has climbed steadily. In 2003, the University of Maryland moved up to 17th place among public universities in U.S. News & World Report rankings, up from 30th in 1998. We currently have 44 graduate and undergraduate programs and units ranked in the top 15 by U.S. News & World Report, up from 5 in 1995.

While our academic successes have spread across the board, the university has emerged as a true powerhouse in business, computer science, earth sciences, engineering, environmental policy, education and journalism. Maryland is one of only 10 public and private universities that have their programs in computer science, mathematics, physics, and engineering each ranked in the top 20. Our College of Education is ranked in the top 20 nationally and 5 of its programs are in the top 10.

ATHLETIC EXCELLENCE

Mote sees athletics as an integral part of the university experience. Indeed athletic success more often than not reflects academic success, he notes. For example, all four of the teams that played in the 2002 NCAA basketball Final Four, including Maryland, are members of the prestigious Association of American Universities, the organization that comprises the leading research and academic universities in North America. "That's no accident," Mote says. "Institutions that are committed to excellence tend to be excellent in every endeavor. Our successes in football, basketball, lacrosse and other sports reflects our culture of quality as much as our successes in engineering, business, education and journalism."

FACULTY STATURE

Dr. Mote believes a university's quality is built by its faculty, and under his leadership, Maryland continues to attract the best faculty available. The university recruited a Nobel Laureate in Physics in 2001 and three more Pulitzer Prize winners (to join three already on the faculty). More than 30 of our faculty are members of the national academies, the highest professional recognition attainable.

DEBORAH A. YOW

ATHLETICS DIRECTOR • 13TH YEAR AT MARYLAND

Deborah A. Yow is in the 13th year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland, a tenure that has seen unprecedented success and achievement in Maryland athletics. Each year has brought steady and continued improvement and accomplishment in Terrapin athletics. In Yow's 12 years at Maryland, the Terrapins have won a remarkable 13 national championships and graduated student-athletes at an enviable rate as Maryland athletics has soared to sustained new heights among the nation's elite intercollegiate athletic programs.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony of her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability.

Likewise, her prior election to the presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics is an indication of the wide respect with which she is regarded among its 6,100 members representing 1,600 colleges and universities in the U.S. and Canada.

She was honored recently by Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal as one of the 20 most influential people in intercollegiate athletics and she has received the Carl Maddox Sport Management Award presented by the United States Sports Academy for excellence in athletics administration.

Dr. Yow was selected to serve on the U.S. Department of Education's Commission on Opportunities in Athletics to review the status of Federal Title IX regulations. She recently served as the chair of the Atlantic Coast Conference Committee on Television. The committee is charged with overseeing the league's TV contracts and dealing with issues related to television. Yow led the committee during the successful renegotiation of comprehensive, multi-year ACC football and basketball contracts with ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 and syndication entities.

Additionally, she has represented intercollegiate athletics with presentations in a number of prominent settings such as the Harvard University School of Law conference on "Shaping the Future of Collegiate Athletics" and the Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal "National Forum on the Direction of Intercollegiate Athletics" in New York. She was also recently inducted into the State of Maryland Women's Hall of Fame and the North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame, joining fellow Terp Buck Williams as honorees.

Yow, who has served on the NCAA Management Council and the NCAA Division I Budget Committee, is a strong and steady voice on behalf of intercollegiate athletics in America.

Since taking over as AD at Maryland in 1994, she and her staff have:

- Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsive, goal-oriented organization with 27 sports and more than 700 student-athletes.
- Balanced all 12 of the department's annual budgets (none of the budgets were balanced in the 10 years prior to her arrival). The budget has now reached $52 million annually and the multi-million dollar accumulated operating debt which her administration inherited has been eradicated.
- Greatly enhanced the academic support services provided for student-athletes, with an enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate of approximately 85 percent for student athletes at Maryland.
- Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports ranking in the upper 7 percent of all NCAA Division I institutions.

IN DECEMBER OF 2004, DEBORAH A. YOW WAS NAMED ONE OF THE MOST INFLUENTIAL PEOPLE IN COLLEGE ATHLETICS BY STREET & SMITH'S SPORTS BUSINESS JOURNAL.

Dr. Yow congratulates one of the members of the Competitive Cheer team that won the 2006 NCA Division I National Championship.

- Significantly expanded marketing and fund-raising efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result, private gifts to athletics have increased over 350 percent and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by over 300 percent during her tenure at Maryland.
- Continued to dramatically improve venues and facilities for the department's 27 teams. The Comcast Center for men's and women's basketball and other sports that use the facility is a prime example of the dramatic upgrade of athletic facilities.
- Implemented a strategic management model.
- Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fund-raising applications.
- Significantly improved customer care in every area of Maryland athletics.

The most recent achievements of Maryland athletics are exceptional:

- Maryland captured a remarkable four national championships during the 2005-06 academic season.
- In 2005-2006, the Terrapins achieved the highest student-athlete graduation rate in the history of Maryland athletics.
- Maryland was selected by U.S. News & World Report as one of the Top 20 athletic programs in the nation (for overall quality and competitive excellence).
- In 2005-06, Maryland Athletics won the inaugural PRISM Award as the most well-managed Division I collegiate athletics program in the nation.
- In men's basketball, the Terps won the Atlantic Coast Conference title over Duke in the championship game in 2004 and won the NCAA National Championship in 2002. Under Coach Gary Williams, the men's basketball team appeared in 11 consecutive NCAA Tournaments.
- Maryland was ranked as the sixth-finest athletic program in the nation by the Laboratory for the Study of Intercollegiate Athletics, based on comprehensive criteria such as graduation rates, financial efficiency, equity effectiveness and competitive excellence.
- Women's basketball won the 2006 NCAA National Championship under head coach Brenda Frese, completing an amazing turnaround that saw the program go from a 10-18 record to a National Championship in four seasons.
- In football, the Terps won the 2001 Atlantic Coast Conference championship and played in the 2002 Orange Bowl, followed that with an 11-win season and a 30-3 victory over the University of Tennessee in the Peach Bowl, again followed by a 10-win season and a 41-7 win over West Virginia in the Gator Bowl on New Year's Day 2004. Graduation rates in football are near 80 percent and the program was recently recognized by the American Football Coaches Association for its academic excellence under Coach Ralph Friedgen.
- Additionally, Maryland is one of only two universities in the nation to win National Championships in men's basketball, women's basketball and football. Stanford is the only other NCAA Division I institution to achieve that mark.
- Set an ACC single-game record for women's basketball attendance by drawing 17,243 to a regular-season game at Comcast Center.
- Hired Dave Cottle, the third-winningest active men's lacrosse coach in the U.S., who guided his team to the NCAA Final Four three times in the past four seasons.
- Field Hockey earned a National Championship in 2005-06 and has become a perennial participant in the Final Four in that sport.
- Women's Lacrosse has continued its winning ways with seven national championships from 1995-2001, with additional Final Four appearances.
- Men's Soccer has appeared in four consecutive Final Fours and won the NCAA National Championship in the 2005-06 season.
- Football facilities have been significantly enhanced with team house, stadium and practice field upgrades. The Academic Center was the first improvement, as it took priority over all other initiatives.
- The Terrapins have moved into the new $125 million Comcast Center, housing athletic department offices and seating for 18,000 fans for basketball and other events.
- In 2005-06, 13 Maryland teams competed in postseason play.
- The productivity, morale, and the competitive and academic achievement of Terrapin athletics are exceptional and continue to gain momentum.

Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past 12 years, Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied... our vision is to be one of the Top 5 programs in the nation consistently... we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools... to work hard and work smart... to recognize that our only limitations are those that we place upon ourselves."

As a manager and a leader, she clearly models these principles. She is the only known current AD in NCAA Division I who has hired both the National Coach of the Year in football (while at Maryland) and the National Coach of the Year in men's basketball (while at Saint Louis University). In 2002, she brought to the University of Maryland Brenda Frese, who at that time was the National Coach of the Year in women's basketball. Four years later, Frese led the Terrapins to the NCAA National Championship at the Women's Final Four in Boston.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics management and human behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT AND CAREER DEVELOPMENT

The University of Maryland is committed to providing the highest quality education to all of its students. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide student-athletes excellent opportunities to participate in an intercollegiate athletics program of the highest quality, with the result that their athletics participation becomes an integral and valued component of their total educational experience at the university.

Terrapin student-athletes will find that the same hard work and discipline that has earned them success in athletics competition is also required in the classroom. Balancing the significant time demands and responsibilities required to be a successful student-athlete at the highest collegiate level is no small task. Therefore, as a result of their commitment to representing the university through athletics, Terrapin student-athletes are able to utilize support programs designed to meet their specific needs.

Led by associate athletics director Anton Goff, the mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU) is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance academic progress, facilitate career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of all UM student-athletes. Jessica Myers (right) works with the gymnastics team.

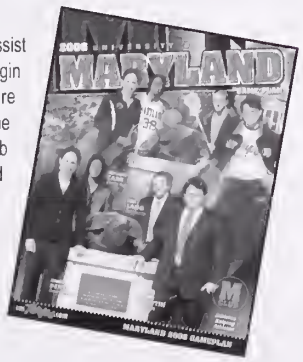
The Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin student-athletes, named for long-time Terp supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is located in the Comcast Center. It features a study center that includes 25 desktop computers, a tutoring center, a classroom, a CHAMPS/Life Skills resource room and individual offices for six professional academic counselors, a director of ILP programs, an assistant program coordinator and two graduate assistants. In addition, a new academic wing was added to the Gossett football team house last Fall. It features offices for two counselors, three learning specialist, and a graduate assistant; as well as a quiet study area, 29-desk computer lab, classroom, tutor rooms and classroom/lab for the individualized learning program.

Academic courses, programs and services offered by ASCDU include the following:

- Student-athlete orientation
- Academic counseling
- NCAA academic eligibility monitoring
- Academic enrichment and career development presentations and workshops
- Accredited tutorial support
- Individualized learning program
- EDCP 108-K (College learning strategies and skills)
- EDCP 108-M (Math learning strategies and skills)
- UNIV 100 (First-year transitions to the university)

MARYLAND GAMEPLAN

The Maryland Gameplan is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin the job search process. It is distributed to more than 500 corporations and businesses across the country, in addition to being featured on the M Club website. Prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements. The Maryland Gameplan directory is produced annually in collaboration with the M Club.



CAREER NETWORKING NIGHT

Because career development is an ongoing process, ASCDU provides a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the year. Professional assistance with resume-writing, interviewing skills, graduate school search and job search is readily available to all student-athletes. During the spring semester ASCDU hosts the Career Networking Night, where student-athletes can learn about career interests and career planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen areas of interest. Employers at the Career Networking Night recognize the marketable qualities student-athletes have gained through athletic participation. Student-athletes learn about opportunities for internships and full-time jobs.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ADVISORY COUNCIL

The Student-Athlete Advisory Council (S.A.A.C.) plays an important role in the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. It consists of two representatives from each varsity sport and meets on a regular basis with representatives from the athletic administration. The S.A.A.C. mission is to enhance the total student-athlete experience by developing leadership skills, promoting student-athlete welfare and fostering a positive student-athlete image on the Maryland campus, local area and nationally.

CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS

ASCDU houses the NCAA's (National Collegiate Athletic Association) Challenging Athletes' Minds for Personal Success (C.H.A.M.P.S.) Life Skills Program. The ASCDU staff, in collaboration with various other Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' units and campus resources, strives to provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual academically, athletically and emotionally, and on the changing needs and skills of that individual in the years during college and after graduation. The menu of presentations, workshops and seminars is a comprehensive and balanced system of "life learning" programs promoted for use by each varsity sport team.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT FOR RETURNING ATHLETES PROGRAM

The Academic Support for Returning Athletes Program was created in 1986 to support the academic efforts of former varsity student-athletes at the University of Maryland, College Park. In 1989, ASRAP was assigned by the President's Office to the Academic Achievements Program and enrolled 40 students that year. As a member of the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS), the University of Maryland is committed to assisting its former athletes with degree completion. A key component of the program is community outreach. Each returning student completes a "workship" that allows the cost of tuition and fees to be exchanged for community services with youth. In 2002, ASRAP moved into the ASCDU.

COMCAST CENTER

Maryland's new student activities building and home of Maryland Athletics was completed in fall 2002. Comcast Center's main arena provides a seating capacity of 17,950 fans for basketball, and will serve as a campus site for university special events and select community events.

The 1,500-seat Comcast Center Pavilion serves as home to the Terps' gymnastics, wrestling and volleyball teams, and the Nextel Heritage Hall multi-purpose room (capacity 400) is equipped to host banquets, press conferences, large meetings and serve as a pre-game restaurant suite overlooking the competition arena.

The Comcast Center also houses the university's athletics administration offices and includes a 7,000-square-foot Academic Support Center, providing an enhanced study atmosphere for the school's nearly-700 student-athletes on 25 teams.

The Terrapins' first public event for basketball was its annual Midnight Madness celebration. Both basketball teams have state-of-the-art facilities at their fingertips including locker room and lounge areas, training areas complete with jacuzzis, and outstanding weight training facilities.

Twenty suites provide enhanced viewing and entertainment capabilities for Maryland fans. Maryland's student seating capacity accommodates 4,000, with students ringing the first 10 rows around the floor and a majority of seats on the arena's west wall.

Comcast Center is an excellent place for alumni and fans to enjoy their favorite sports and share their common Terrapin spirit. Visitors will learn about the men and women who have made Maryland Athletics great as they stroll through the dramatic Terrapin Walk of Fame and History. And the Terrapin Team Store, located just off the soaring three-level atrium lobby, allows visitors to outfit their pride. Maryland has once again reclaimed the status of having the best student activities center and athletics home in the country.

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

One of the most unique aspects of Maryland's women's gymnastics team is the nature of its strength and conditioning program. "We have a vigorous weight program," says head coach Bob Nelligan. "We're physically stronger and tougher, and the support staff that's allowing us to do this should be applauded."

The team's strength and conditioning coach, Barry Kagan, has been a part of Maryland's strength and conditioning program since 1993 and has worked with the gymnasts for the last six years.

Barry Kagan

According to Kagan, the gymnastics weight training program is one that is constantly changing. "It's continuously adapting depending on the individual needs of the current team," said Kagan.

The primary goal of the team's program is injury prevention. Next, the weight program strives to enhance each gymnasts' performance. "Most gymnastics programs take a fairly conservative approach, doing moderate weight training," said Kagan. "We take a very balanced approach, emphasizing strength over muscular endurance, as most of the other programs do."

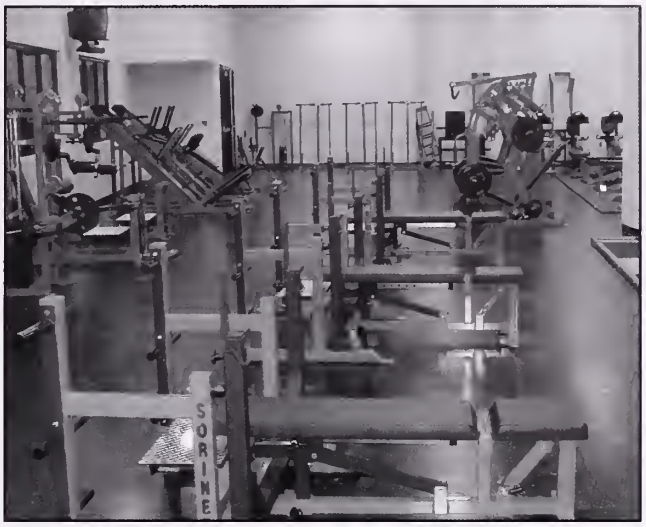
The team begins lifting in September upon returning to campus. The first two weeks are comprised of a learning/reacquaintance phase. "Most gymnasts don't lift in the style that we do," said Kagan. "We want to make sure they are ready to take on the more complicated lifts."

After the two-week introductory period the team progresses into a complex training program which involves several Olympic-style lifts. The main lower body exercise is the squat exercise, to enhance lower body stability. For upper body training, the women use dumbbells rather than bars to alleviate some of the stress on the shoulders. The athletes also train aerobically in September and October to prepare for full routines.

"In season, our approach becomes more of a maintenance phase," said Kagan. "We alternate the daily intensity of the lifts by organizing around the meet schedule." The women lift as a team twice a week with occasional conditioning circuits in the gym.

As for strength-to-body weight ratio, the gymnasts are the "strongest women in the department," said Kagan.

The Terrapins are fortunate to train in two of the premier weight training facilities in the country. Conveniently located in the Gossett Football Team House at Byrd Stadium, this facility has excellent aesthetic appeal, with two magnificent skylights and large windows overlooking the playing field at Byrd Stadium. The Terps' spacious weight room includes 7,200 square feet of functional floor space, with two elevated offices that are easily accessible to the training floor.



In 2002, Maryland began training in the spacious, brand-new, state-of-the-art weight room in Comcast Center.

Maryland gymnasts train with some of the best equipment available, including 20,000 pounds of customized York free weights, seven pieces of Keiser progressive air resistance machines, and a full line of Hammer strength equipment. The weight complex also features immense, self-contained rack stations, Olympic lifting platforms with Eleiko bumper plates, and 10 upper body pressing stations.

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT AT THE HEALTH AND HUMAN PERFORMANCE BUILDING

The Maryland gymnastics team practices in the Health and Human Performance Building (HHP), located near the Campus Recreation Center. The HHP is a state of the art gymnastics facility that covers 18,000 square feet. There are two spring floor exercise mats which lie side-by-side with a travelling overhead spotting rig used for vaulting as well as floor exercise. There are spotting belts that are placed above the uneven bars, the single rail bar, and the trampolines. The single rail bar, tumbling strip and vaulting area are all connected into or onto brand new fitted Tiffin resi pits. Twenty centimeter mats surround AAI uneven bars and four new AAI Elite series balance beams. One of the most attractive features of the practice facility is the lighting, which is soft and leaves no shadows anywhere in the gym. Finally, there is a glassed-in trampoline room with four-string bed Goliath tramps surrounded by spotting platforms and 12-inch landing mats.
